ANGEL PRODUCTIONS

July 2008

We are pleased to announce no less than three special offers on our DVD training resources this summer: a chance to pre-purchase our forthcoming recruitment & selection resource at half price, and a choice of two 'summer sale' deals on all our other titles. Details below ...

'Best of the Bunch 2': prepurchase at half price

We are now producing an all-new version of our widely used recruitment and selection package, Best of the Bunch. The new package will be a DVD with comprehensive printable resources, based around newly scripted and newly shot drama scenes. Like the original version it will provide training for anyone involved in recruitment and selection, not just HR specialists. Like all our titles, equality and diversity will be central to the message.

When it is launched in Autumn 2008, the standard price of Best of the Bunch 2 will be £795 plus VAT. For a limited period you can now pre-purchase copies at £400 plus VAT, or half price.

These pre-sales will help us finance the production, and the offer will be withdrawn without notice once it has raised enough funds, so do not wait to place your order! Visit our website for more details and to place your order.

There are also still opportunities to sponsor the new Best of the Bunch. For as little as £1,000 you can be credited as a sponsor, and will get copies of the finished pack and other benefits.

A video of your own?

When your organisation needs its own video or DVD produced, who do you turn to? The team responsible for Angel Productions' highly praised off-the-shelf productions is sometimes available for 'bespoke' production too.

If you would like to discuss cost-effective solutions to your video production needs, call Stephen Engelhard at Angel Productions.

SUMMER SALE

On our other titles, throughout July and August you can choose between two sale offers from Angel Productions:

20% discount off the standard price of any of our off-the-shelf video/DVD based resources for workplace training, OR

Buy any one of our resource packs at the standard price and get a second one for half price. (The discounted pack will be the less expensive of the two.)

Just order before the end of August 2008 and tell us which offer you would like to take up.

The sale offers apply to all our titles about:

- Equality
- Diversity
- Bullying & harassment
- Flexible working
- Recruitment & selection
- Disability at work
- People management
