

“ indoor and outdoor activities to develop and cement key leadership & management skills and behaviours ”

Experiential Learning

Experiential Learning uses indoor and outdoor activities to develop and cement key leadership & management skills and behaviours.

Combining first class customer service with our extensive experience, knowledge and trusted approach, THE Group can create and tailor an experiential learning programme to cater for individual and organisational needs.

- Approved and fully certified instructors guarantee a safe, fun and challenging learning experience
- Leadership & management development specialists support programmes and draw out key learning from each experience
- ILM Team Leader and First Line Manager Awards can be achieved within an extended, weekend programme
- Team working and leadership skills develop through a dynamic group learning environment
- The duration of experiential learning programmes can be structured to suit organisation requirements and needs